Vacancy is filled up smoothly through internal promotion but in cases where no insider is qualified, external candidates are considered.

4) Other Executive, Non-Executive and Independent Directors

YES. While the Board does not have a strict policy on this, the Company follows the standing practice of electing Board of directors who have proven expertise in the industry. In fact, the majority of its current directors have practical knowledge and/or have extensive work experience in the chemical industry.

Define and clarify the roles, accountabilities and deliverables of the Executive, Non-Executive and Independent Directors:

	Executive	Non-Executive	Independent Director
Role	General superintendence and direction of all other offices of the corporation and of the employees and shall see to it that their respective duties are properly performed. Exercise all powers delegated by the Board. Serve as a bridge between the management and the board of directors.	Performs oversight, control and approval functions as delegated to them.	Independent Directors essentially have the same general and basic role as Non-executive Directors.

Provide the company's definition of "independence" and describe the company's compliance to the definition.

"Independence" in relation to an Independent Director refers to a person other than an officer or employee of the corporation, its parent or subsidiaries, or any other individual having any relationship with the corporation, which would interfere with the exercise of independent judgment in carrying out the responsibilities of a director. This means that except for his entitlement to a director's fees and a nominal qualifying directorial share, he should have no other financial or non-financial compensation or any vested interest in the corporation. He shall be self-determining. He shall be free from any influence by or pressure from those parties with vested interests in the corporation. He must have no business or other relationship with the corporate owners, directors nor employees, which could materially interfere with the exercise of his objective judgment.

Does the company have a term limit of five consecutive years for independent directors? If after two years, the company wishes to bring back an independent director who had served for five years, does it limit the term for no more than four additional years? Please explain.

Currently, the term limit of the independent directors is not explicitly written in the Corporate Governance Manual but the Company will comply with the term limit set by the SEC in its Memo Circular No. 9 Series of 2011.
